

John E Gobble DrPH, RDN, LD, FACLM, MCHES

As first vice-president of ANDIA, John is founder of “Lifestyle Medicine Group”, a team of registered dietitians and health coaches providing medical nutrition therapy (MNT) and therapeutic lifestyle change services for medical groups throughout Oregon and Washington. He continues to be an active member of AND, and past president of the Oregon affiliate. A graduate of Loma Linda University School of Public Health, John earned the DrPH (preventive care) and MPH in both public health nutrition and health education. “My goal is to make nutrition an integral part of 21st century healthcare and plant-based eating a logical response to local Adventist ministries”.
